MINING PROFITS NOTHING SMALL

When it is learned that 109 mines and metallurgical works in the United States, according to a careful compilation by the Mining World, have paid dividends for eight months this year amounting to the large total of $64,967,181, there can be no further doubt of the vast profits that are being earned in the mineral industry. These 109 concerns have declared in dividends to date $519,191,803 on an issued capitalization of $555,114,517, showing a return of 93 1/2 per cent. It should be said to the credit of the 104 gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc and quick-silver mines reporting their dividends that they have already declared the enormous sum of $471,734,208, which is equivalent to 124 per cent on the outstanding capitalization of $383,239,467.

These huge profits have accrued not only to individual shareholders, but have also contributed generously to the income of such securities holding corporations as the Amalgamated Copper Company, the American Securities Company, the Copper Range Consolidated Company, and others which are heavily interested in operating mining companies. Six of these securities holding corporations, with an outstanding capitalization of $242,726,000, have declared dividends so far this year amounting to $12,391,250, making a total since incorporation of $68,103,819, for a comparatively short period. The Amalgamated Copper Company, which has a controlling interest in the Boston and Montana, Anaconda and other mines whose dividends are included in the total for operating properties given above, has declared $9,201,276 this year, and since 1899 has distributed $52,618,504 on its issued capital of $153,887,900. Amalgamated now pays 8 per cent per annum. The American Smelters Securities Company, a branch of the smelter trust family tree, divided $1,890,000 in profits this year, making a total of $5,925,000 on an issued capitalization of $47,000,000; the "A" preferred shares yield 6 per cent per annum, and the "B" preferred 5 per cent. The Copper Range Consolidated Company, which is interested in the Baltic Champion and other Lake copper properties, declared $1,535,124 in dividends this year, making a total of $5,756,715 on an issued capitalization of $38,378,100 to date.

Another source of large profit is the sale of metals on commission. The United Metals Selling Company, which is affiliated with the Amalgamated Copper Company, and is capitalized at $5,000,000, has declared a dividend of $4,375,000, or 27 1/2 per cent for the eight months this year. Since incorporation, in January, 1900, the United Metals Selling Company has disbursed profits of $4,875,000, equivalent to 97 1/2 per cent of its capitalization. In addition to the above there have been large profits divided by numerous private and close corporations, to say nothing of the vast sums that have been earned by smaller mine owners and prospectors. Labor, machinery and supplies, transportation, and the multitude of incidental necessities for operating mines and metallurgical works, have all required extraordinary disbursements—sums of money which few other industries are capable of earning. No wonder that the shares of mining companies of merit are in demand, many of them at a big premium.

Copper mines continue to lead in the dividend list, and notwithstanding the reaction in metal prices, may be expected to roll up a big total for the year. During the first eight months, twenty-seven copper mines paid dividends of $41,203,676, making a total of $331,448,166 since incorporation on an issued capitalization of $172,765,275. The banner as leader is still carried by the Calumet and Hecla mine, which, on its capitalization of $2,500,000, has disbursed to date $103,350,000, or 4134 per cent; the dividends this year amount to $4,000,000, equivalent to 160 per cent on par. Second place is given to Boston and Montana, which has declared dividends of $56,125,000 since incorporation on a capitalization of $3,750,000, or nearly 1500 per cent; this year the dividends total $5,400,000, or 144 per cent on par. Anaconda of Montana paid $6,300,000 this year, making a total of $37,200,000 to date on a $30,000,000 capitalization. United Verde of Arizona is reported to have paid dividends of $23,395,322 since incorporation on its $3,000,000 capitalization; this year it declared $2,000,000. Quincy of Michigan, capitalized at $3,750,000, upon which $1,350,000 was paid this year, has declared to date $17,945,000. Calumet and Arizona has announced dividends of $3,000,000 this year and $9,000,000 to date on a capitalization of $2,500,000. The Arizona mine, controlled in Scotland, yielded $2,113,319 in dividends this year, making a total of $10,955,440 since incorporation on a $3,775,000 share-capital.

AUTOMOBILES AND MONEY.

Has any one adequately estimated the effect of the automobile craze upon the money market? That the automobile has been of great benefit to the country in many ways, there can be no doubt whatever. It has promoted outdoor life; it has worked for good roads; it has had the effect of building up the country towns, and getting rich people interested in the improvement of country life, and it has built up a great industry with many auxiliary branches.

But along with these benefits there has been the very great evil of extravagance in living. With the exception of the steam yacht, the automobile is the most expensive of luxuries. As a plaything of the rich and as a tool of commerce, it has proved of great benefit. Unfortunately, however, multitudes of people unable to support such a luxury have purchased automobiles. There are numerous cases of people having mortgaged their homes in order to buy them. Thousands of people have purchased automobiles who ought to have saved the money which they cost and the money which is needed for their operation.

Now it is plain that a large aggregate of money which might have been saved for investment purposes has gone into the purchase and operation of these fascinating machines. The expense of the automobile leads to many other extravagances, and these have been responsible for many people living beyond their means, and of running into debt.

Running into debt means finally a bad money market and a falling off in the demand for investments.—Wall Street Journal.
